LIFE SAVERS UNABLE TO LAUNCH BOAT IN SEA

Captain Hardy and Wife Perish
With Members of Crew, Who Put Off from Doomed Vessel in Small Lifeboat

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 16.—Captain Hardy and his wife, and two members of the crew of the schooner Charles K. Buckley, from Jacksonville for New York, perished last night when their life boat was wrecked after the schooner had been hurled ashore by a northeast gale near Long Branch, N. J.
The schooner is a total loss. One man named Atchison, who remained on the deck of the Buckley was rescued after midnight by being virtually tossed by a life boat across the bow of the schooner from the shore. Atchison got twisted up in the breeches buoy line and was dragged from the deck by the crew. Life savers on shore ran with the line, dragging Atchison up the beach more dead than alive. He was taken to the Monmouth hospital in the automobile of a wealthy shore owner. Both of Atchison's shoulders and one leg were broken. He is not expected to live.

Bedes, Captain Hardy and his wife and his wife, and two members of the crew of the schooner Charles K. Buckley were heavily laden with lumber. She was a three-masted schooner of 110 tons. Her home port was Newark, N. J.
The crew were up on the beach and saw the life boat being lowered. The crew were unable to launch a boat. A great crowd stood on the beach and saw the schooner being wrecked. Several life boats were lowered and the crew were rescued. The schooner was a total loss.

Berger and Smith.

PONCEY DE LEON PARK, April 16.—Fair skies greeted the fans who turned out to witness the double bill between the Nashville Volunteers and the Crackers here this afternoon. A fair-sized crowd witnessed the contest from the stands.

Manager Schwartz sent Berger in to pitch and used Smith behind the plate. Oil Price was Billy Smith's choice for hurling honors and was given Dunn for a battery mate. Umpire Keenan was calling the balls and strikes, while Buchanan officiated as the catcher.

Lynch to McConnell to second, and then, with a slow throw, Lynch, Williams flied to Fleming. One hit, no run.

DR. C. T. A. PISE ACCEPTS GORDON AS MENTIONED CALL TO ANOTHER CHURCH

Dean of St. Philip's Cathedral
Leaves in June for New Charge in Goshen, N. Y.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Georgia political situation in so far as the governorship is concerned was further complicated today by a rumor that Congressman Gordon Lee, of the New York district, may enter the race.

Mr. Lee returned from Georgia yesterday, where he has been for the past few days. He would not discuss his candidacy this morning, other than to admit that he had been urged by friends in all parts of the state to offer as a candidate.

He has accepted a call to St. James Episcopal church in Goshen, N. Y., and will resign his Atlanta rectorship in the near future.

His departure will cause deep regret throughout the south, as Dr. Pise has been a prominent figure in the Episcopal church in Georgia for many years.

Dr. Pise is on a vacation on the coast of South Carolina, but it was stated at his home Friday that he had already accepted the call and that while he had not resigned his local rectorship, it was understood that he would resign.

CAPTAIN JOHN T. STOCKS DIED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Funeral of Well-Known Atlanta Will Be Held Friday Morning

Captain John T. Stocks, one of Atlanta's well known citizens, died Wednesday night at 8:50 o'clock at his residence, 400 Courtland street. He was seventy-two years old, and since 1882 had been a resident of Atlanta.

He was one of the first men to establish a wholesale coal business in Atlanta, and the present extensive business of the Stocks Coal company is the outgrowth of his foresight as an investor in 1882.

Several years ago he sold his interest in the business to his brother, E. M. Stocks, his health necessitating his retirement. He was a strong believer in Atlanta's future, even as early as 1882, and he backed up his judgment by extensive real estate purchases. He was noted for his fine citizenship and had many friends who were deeply grieved because of his death.

He was a Confederate veteran, having commanded a company in the gallant Seventh Georgia regiment which fought itself so bravely at the battle of Manassas. At the time of his death he was a member of the Atlanta camp of the U. C. V., and he desired that his funeral be held in the welfare of Confederate veterans.

PLEADS GUILTY TO NOT PAYING FOR MEALS

N. H. Cunningham, alias A. E. Stovall, the seventeen-year-old youth who was arrested for registering at prominent hotels and signing for his meals without paying for them thereafter, pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday morning in the city criminal court.

Cunningham, who is a good looking, well dressed boy, was arrested early in April. He is a member of a prominent northern family, and for that reason a number of northern people in the city have interested themselves in an effort to have him sent to a northern reformatory instead of the state farm at Milledgeville. He is just one year too old to be sent to the Fulton county reformatory, and Judge Calhoun stated that unless funds could be raised by Monday and a suitable reformatory selected he would send the boy to the state farm.

Gertel, of Atlanta, on "The Present Status of Bacteriology," Dr. C. M. Curtis, of College Park, on "The Present Status of the La Grippe Germ," Dr. A. B. Mason, of Waynesville, on "First Aid to the Injured," and Dr. W. H. Hinkle, of Macon, on "Headaches."

Will Advise Friends in England to Take Course in Georgia School

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) ATLANTA, Ga., April 16.—Dr. Geo. B. Broughton, the noted Baptist minister, formerly of Atlanta, but now pastor of Christ church of London, asked for catalogues of the Georgia State College of Agriculture for the information of some Englishmen that he has been advising to come to the Georgia State College of Agriculture for a practical education and to learn among the people of the South.

Writing President Soule, Dr. Broughton says: "I will venture to use them to the best advantage. I must confess, I will endeavor to use them to the best advantage. I must confess, I will endeavor to use them to the best advantage. I must confess, I will endeavor to use them to the best advantage."

The interest which the English are taking in cotton growing is evidence of their great use of the fiber in manufacturing. It is thought may lead to an attendance of some of the people of the north in the cotton growing industry.

ACKERMAN WILL CONTINUE IN OFFICE INDEFINITELY

U. S. Attorney for South Georgia District Still Problematical

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 16.—The elimination by Attorney General McKeen of A. Pratt Adams, of Savannah, as a possibility for United States attorney for the Southern district of Georgia, seems not to have clarified the situation very much. There is every reason to believe that Alex Ackerman, of Macon, will continue to hold office for an indefinite period.

The attorney general yesterday raised the same objection to the appointment of Captain R. M. Hitch, of Savannah, that he has urged against Mr. Adams. He told Senator West that Captain Hitch would not be considered to be resigned from the law firm of Hitch & Dammer. It is believed that Hitch will decline to do this.

When the attorney general named his condition with respect to the appointment of Captain Hitch, Senator West suggested the names of D. A. R. Crum, of Cordele, and Fred T. Sausy, of Savannah. Last night he decided to let Zane Culp, of Bainbridge, as another whose appointment would be acceptable to him.

"I do not know Mr. Culp personally," explained the senator, "but he is well known to me, and I am confident that he will be able to do the work of the department. I am confident that he will be able to do the work of the department."

The arrangement between Senator Hoke Smith and the late Senator Bacon, whereby the latter was to control senatorial patronage in the Southern district, expired of course with the death of Senator Bacon. It is known, however, that Senator Smith has made no recommendation for the Southern district attorneyship, and he has indicated that he has no objection to the appointment of Captain Hitch.

The attorney general indicated yesterday to Senator West that he would insist upon making no change in south Georgia until after the trial of the case against the American Naval Stores company. It is for hearing on May 1, but there is on telling how long it will continue in the courts.

CONVENTION ELECTRIC SIGN FOR CITY HALL

Chairman Humphrey Favors One Which Will Spell Out Any Welcome Desired

Councilman W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee of general council, says $200 will be sufficient to decorate the city hall with electric lights for the Shrine convention, and he believes this amount can be spared from the city treasury.

Chairman Humphrey on Tuesday, in The Journal, defended the action of the aldermanic board last Thursday in approving an appropriation for this purpose of $1,200, which had been passed by the common council. He said the amount, on account of the general shortage of funds.

Chairman Humphrey is in favor of the decorations, as a matter of course, but is satisfied $200 is all the proper decorations will cost, and he will recommend an appropriation of this amount.

Chairman Humphrey further favors, for convention purposes, a permanent electric sign on top of the city hall, similar to a sign on top of the city hall of Detroit, so arranged that a welcome for any convention can be spelled out in electric letters. For instance, for the Shrine convention there would be spelled out on the sign "Welcome Shrine" or some such appropriate words, and the sign would be similarly used for all conventions that come to the city.

"I do not know Mr. Culver personally," explained the senator, "but he is well known to me, and I am confident that he will be able to do the work of the department. I am confident that he will be able to do the work of the department."

TO INVESTIGATE OIL LANDS IN OKLAHOMA

Commissioner Sells and Navy Officer Make Plans for Trip

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 16.—Commissioner Sells, of the Indian office, and Lieutenant Commander Boyd, of the navy, are preparing for their trip to the Oklahoma oil fields to investigate the feasibility of government lease of lands and a pipe line to the gulf to conserve a fuel supply for the navy. Secretary antels today formally designated Commander Boyd to represent the navy department in the investigation, which is being made under a congressional resolution fathered by Senator Gore.

Commander Boyd expects to leave Washington April 25, going first to Tulsa, Okla. No definite time has been fixed for the conclusion of the investigation, but it is expected that during its course the commissioners will visit Independence, Oklahoma City, Bartlesville, Ardmore, Bristow, Port Arthur, Galveston, New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

It's Beautiful---Go Look At It

Atlanta has no more attractive home-building section than Peachtree Heights Park, because---

1. Nature made it beautiful.

2. Art has added to the natural beauty, at the same time preserving it, and the combination of the two has developed a perfect residence park.

The hills, the valleys, the streams and the trees are still there in all their original beauty, but---

Beautiful driveways now wind through it. Sidewalks border its building lots. Water and sewers are beneath its roads, ready for service. Undergrowth is cut away, but forest trees remain. Today it is like you want it for the home.

Don't take anybody's word for it, but look at the lots; study them, and you will find that we could, in justice, have said much more.

Let us show you, or see your own agent.

Uncle Sam wouldn't do a thing but knock the chill out of Mexico.

Don't say that everybody is seeking office. Rather say that every Georgia office is seeking men.

The United States and Mexico.

The latest developments in the Mexican situation are so crowded with possibilities that only a guess as to their outcome can be ventured. Huerta may bow to the demand of the United States and quietly end the present situation, or he may continue defiant and force a reckoning. Certain it is that our Government has reached the limit of virtuous patience, and is determined to act as vigorously as circumstances may require. That does not mean that it will act rashly or will go further than national interest and national honor demand.

The insult to American marines at Tampico was merely one of a series of indignities which the Huerta regime has visited upon representatives of the United States Government and which the Dictator himself has condoned. This audacity has gone so far, indeed, that official dispatches to the American embassy at Mexico City have been intercepted and censored before they were delivered. Conditions are presently so loaded with possibilities that the United States Government yesterday authorized by the Administration. "It cannot but strike anyone who has watched the course of events in Mexico as significant that untoward incidents such as these have not occurred in any case where representatives of other governments were concerned, but only in dealings with representatives of the United States, and that there has been no occasion for other governments to call attention to such matters or to ask for apologies. These repeated offenses against the rights and dignity of the United States, offenses not duplicated with regard to the representatives of other governments, have necessarily made the impression that the Government of the United States was singled out for manifestation of ill will and contempt."

In these circumstances, indeed, it will be morally compelled to exact ample apology and reparation, by persuasive firmness if possible, but by unflinching force if need be. Of immediate interest, is the question of Huerta's response to our demands. Will he yield, or not? Will he order the American flag saluted, and thereby close a stormy incident or sullenly stick to his present course and reap the inevitable whirlwind? It will not be at all surprising if he does the latter. He can scarcely be unaware of the desperateness of his present position in respect to the United States. His best armies have been defeated and his best commanders outgeneraled. His treasury is empty, and he has no hope of securing loans either abroad or at home. It is simply a question of time, and a very short time, when his tottering regime must fall. Huerta may naturally choose to make his quietus under a bolt from the United States rather than under the tide of the Constitutionalists. Indeed, he may be purposely inviting American interference.

It should be noted, however, that the course which the United States Government is now preparing to adopt, if necessary, is distinctly different from the present intervention in respect to the United States. His best armies have been defeated and his best commanders outgeneraled. His treasury is empty, and he has no hope of securing loans either abroad or at home. It is simply a question of time, and a very short time, when his tottering regime must fall. Huerta may naturally choose to make his quietus under a bolt from the United States rather than under the tide of the Constitutionalists. Indeed, he may be purposely inviting American interference.

It should be noted, however, that the course which the United States Government is now preparing to adopt, if necessary, is distinctly different from the present intervention in respect to the United States. His best armies have been defeated and his best commanders outgeneraled. His treasury is empty, and he has no hope of securing loans either abroad or at home. It is simply a question of time, and a very short time, when his tottering regime must fall. Huerta may naturally choose to make his quietus under a bolt from the United States rather than under the tide of the Constitutionalists. Indeed, he may be purposely inviting American interference.

Whether our dealings with a Constitutional government at Mexico City would be more satisfactory than those with the Huerta government have been open to question. Certainly, however, they could be no worse, and they might be a great deal better. We should at least have a clean slate to write upon, and the likelihood is that our opportunity for helpfulness would be much broader. The Constitutionalists represent the only internal force that offers any hope of bringing Mexico to peace and order. The United States will be fortunate if it can make its influence felt constructively in that direction.

These matters, however, are largely speculative. The fact of immediate concern is that our Government has taken a decisive, unwavering stand in vindication of its offended dignity and honor. The President recognizes that the moment for positive action has arrived, and no one can be more positive than when he occupies the White House.

If he had baseball in Mexico, a true word would be made now for the opening game.

President Wilson is our idea of a man who is having responsibilities thrust upon him.

Atlanta Real Estate.

The sale of the property at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter street establishes a new record in the value of Atlanta real estate and furnishes new evidence of the city's remarkable growth as a center of sound and profitable investment. The lot in question faces fifty feet on Whitehall street and has a depth of two hundred and four feet on Hunter street. The price paid was four hundred and sixty thousand dollars, or nine thousand, two hundred dollars a front foot.

That is the highest figure real estate has ever reached in this or any other Southern city. The transaction was between a man who represents the community's most substantial business interests and a man of keen foresight and deliberate judgment. It was a cool business deal in which the purchaser felt amply justified in paying the price.

Atlanta's realty values have never gone backward not even in periods of financial depression, such as prevailed in 1907 and 1908, and they never will. On the contrary, they have moved steadily forward, and they will continue to do so more vigorously than ever before. There may be occasional lulls in the market, but the underlying forces of development are continually active, the fundamental conditions of growth are always sound and vital.

The fact is, this city is moving irresistibly forward, and it is a matter of comparatively a few years, when real estate values will be based on a population of half a million. Remarkable though Atlanta's growth has been in the past, the greatest chapter in its progress is just now beginning. It has been chosen by the United States Government as the financial center of the Southeast, a distinction that will be nation-wide in its effect. The city's future is absolutely assured. It is entering upon a new era of expansion and prosperity, and in no field of business interests will this new and larger life find more emphatic expression than in that of real estate. Whoever buys Atlanta real estate judiciously will sooner or later have a golden investment.

Regional Bank Views.

Beneath the eddies of criticism attending the appointment of regional banks, the broad current of business thought moves undisturbed. Bankers, merchants and other business men, taken the country over, are satisfied with the committee's work. There are differences of opinion, to be sure; no two groups of men would agree precisely on all the details of any plan. And in a few communities, disappointed pride has led to not unreasonable complaint. But the consensus of sober judgment undoubtedly sustains the committee's decisions. The Financial World, published at New York and Chicago, emphasizes this view when it declares in its current issue that protests over the location of federal reserve bank cities seem to be lessening, and adds, "Well it may, in the face of the formidable data furnished in defense of the plan as announced." "The critics were too hasty," the Financial World continues, and proceeds to justify its remark.

In the case of the much-discussed selection of Richmond, Va. over Washington and Baltimore, it is shown that in the year 1913 Richmond lent to southern borrowers $25,000,000, as against $7,000,000 by Baltimore. Washington gave southern accommodations only to the extent of $1,000,000.

On the Pacific coast, while the territory is great the national banks are not of sufficient size and capital to provide two banks of minimum size, and the same was found true of Denver. Kansas City was the first point of importance between St. Louis and the Rockies that would afford a suitable location for a bank that would have sufficient support.

Equally interesting is the comment of the Journal of Commerce, which points out that when the establishment of twelve banks, the maximum number allowed by law, was decided upon, the location of them were virtually predestined. No one doubted that Boston, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco would be chosen, and few who had studied the situation doubted that Philadelphia would be.

On the Pacific coast the very early appearance that while the extent of territory was great, there was not enough capital to provide two banks of minimum size. The same thing was true of Denver, Colorado, where the surrounding region was so barren of banks that Denver could have been made a headquarters only by a great deal of territory that was not available as tributary to Denver. Kansas City was about the first point between St. Louis and the Rocky Mountains that afforded a suitable location for a bank that would have sufficient support and satisfactory geographical location to take care of the Central Western region. Most persons who have examined conditions carefully are of the opinion that Kansas City almost necessarily was to be selected as a banking center. In the Mid-West between Chicago and the equator end of the Great Lakes, it early became evident that at least one bank would have to be created, Cleveland being the preferable point for its location.

It was inevitable, of course, that there should be complaints and protests over the country's plan. The remarkable fact is that there are comparatively so few. This country as a whole is well content to let the appointment of banks and districts stand as it is, and when the system is in practical operation, even the communities that are saying nothing will forget that they ever had a fancied grievance.

THE TEACHER

By Dr. Frank Crane
(Copyright, 1914, by Frank Crane)

I have received the following letter:
"I wish you would express through your column your opinion of the teaching profession for a man."

"I have an innate feeling that it is my work; I have no taste for any other, and I am content by pursuing it. My parents and friends discourage me from entering upon it, because it promises small financial returns."

"Why is teaching, the noblest profession of all, looked upon with such contempt by the majority of people when it is taken up by men?"

"I trust that you will give your readers the benefit of your views on this subject."

"I have no doubt that the first thing you must do to ask yourself: What kind of a life do you want? Do you want to be a man?"

"If you want to make money, and to gain prominence, power, pleasures and lordly ways that the rich have, do not go to for teaching, nor for that matter, for art, literature, preaching and the like. The chances of becoming wealthy in these callings are a hundred to one against you."

"If, on the other hand, you wish to be a teacher, you must be willing to live simply, and with economy. You must be willing to live in comfort, to save up a bit against a rainy day, and to find your life's pleasure in your work, then you may take up some intellectual pursuit."

"If you are a real teacher, then to you the amassing of money is a second rate business. The teacher's life is a life of sacrifice. The greatest is teaching, whether reckoned by the results upon others or the results upon yourself."

"The teacher's life is a life of sacrifice. It is what Bushnell called 'the property right in souls.' All forces of kind of values, the artist's art; but the best kind of all are those values created by the teacher. His work is in character, training, thought-power and soul-strength."

"To clear up the ideas of others, to awaken high emotions in the hearts of children, to lead a noble, false reasoning and clap-trap, and to render them vicious and selfish, is the very best business known. If you do this, you will be a teacher, and you will be a success. If you realize the wonder and nobility of it, then teach."

"If you measure success by salary, and if you are continually lusting for the flesh pots of money grubbers, then keep out of the teacher's trade. The teacher's life is a life of sacrifice. Success means only money. They suppose that they are doing good, and they are not. They are only making money. They are only making money. They are only making money."

"The financial rewards of men, as society is now constituted, are in the hands of a few. A certain class of men, who are the owners of the means of production, are the only ones who can make money. They are the only ones who can make money. They are the only ones who can make money."

Subsidy Playing Patriot

By Savoyard

"For I may unto you, that except your righteousness exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven."—Matthew 23:23.

What was the doctrine of the scribes and Pharisees? This, simply this—"I am holier than thou." "God, I thank thee that I am not as this publican."

This is the spirit that afflicted the blessed Redeemer. He was crucified between two thieves, the malefactor and the delinquent. He was crucified between two thieves, the malefactor and the delinquent. He was crucified between two thieves, the malefactor and the delinquent.

Well, there is a political religion that is scarcely less destructive and almost as odious. It says: "I am more patriotic than thou." Mankind has been playing with this vermin through the ages. It is the dagger and the staff of the demagogue; it is the food and raiment of that political miscreant whose creed is ignorance, war, blood and death.

The Hon. Knowland is one of 'em, and their tribe is legion. I pursued George Washington, and the little fellows in the congresses of his day denounced him for surrendering to Great Britain just as our first meat set in this day Church Woodrow Wilson with avowed pliancy to the same power. There is nothing new in it. It is the virus that corrupted the blood of politics in all its climes and all races.

Here is the Hon. Vanderman, who says that he loves the flag and the country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country.

And Champ—that lovable and delightful man—was born to be a greater patriot, but he needs must be a patriot. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country.

It is deplorable—the course of Clark for the last two months and the conduct of the debate. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country. He is a patriotic man, and he has given himself to the service of his country.

Now there is no doubt of the personal popularity of Champ Clark and it is founded on affection more than upon admiration. The day the "rule" was passed, the day the "rule" was passed, the day the "rule" was passed. The day the "rule" was passed, the day the "rule" was passed. The day the "rule" was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed. The rule was passed, the rule was passed, the rule was passed.

Effects of Smoke Pollution

By Frederic J. Haskin

In size and tempo the modern city has gone farward faster than its builders could fit themselves to realize. The city has swallowed its hundreds of thousands, distributed them through its streets and alleys, and has built up its skyscrapers and its great business buildings, and developed its great cities into a vast, unending sea of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire.

It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire.

It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire.

It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire.

It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire.

It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire. It is a city of smoke and fire, a city of smoke and fire.

FIGHT FOR CHEAPER GAS STARTS MONDAY

Petition Will Go to Council Asking Appropriation for Investigation of Rate

The movement for cheaper gas rates started by City Electrician R. C. Turner will take definite shape next Monday when a petition is presented to the general council asking that the city appropriate $5,000 to defray the expenses of an investigation by the state railroad commission into the affairs of the Atlanta Gas Light company.

Electrician Turner states that the petition has been signed by more than 1,100 voters. Its presentation to council will be the first time that the recently enacted initiative feature of the city charter of Atlanta has been employed. According to Turner, the petitions have been circulated under the auspices of a recently formed organization called the Gas Consumers' league.

The gas company's answer to the demand for cheaper rates will probably be that coal costs more in Atlanta than in cities nearer the coal fields, wherefore it is not fair to compare Atlanta's rate of $1 per 1,000 cubic feet with rates of 75 cents and 80 cents in cities where coal can be bought cheaper.

Smoking Allowed in Church? Sure Thing! Doctors Meet There

The walls of the Wesley Memorial church were treated to something Wednesday morning which is said to say they never saw before—smoking. Daily sessions of the Medical Association of Georgia are held in the church during the three-day convention that started Wednesday. A few minutes after the infection by the pastor, Rev. W. K. Hendrix, smoking started.

The president, presiding on the rostrum took out a cigarette, lit a match and gave a couple of comfortable puffs. Immediately a match scraped on the second row and blue wisps curled up from a fat cigar toward the stained glass windows.

A man on row one took out a vicious looking pipe, filled 'er up and fired away. Then, as the word goes, "smoking became general" and continued throughout the morning session.

MILK EXHIBIT ATTRACTS NOTICE AT CITY HALL

Dr. Claude Smith, City Chemist, Says Dairymen Are Working for Better Product

Dr. Claude Smith, the city bacteriologist and chemist, whose duties include the analysis of milk sold in Atlanta, to determine whether it conforms to the standards required by the city ordinance, has installed in front of city hall a very attractive exhibit showing samples of milk with varying bacterial counts.

The samples are ranged in a row. The one on the left shows several bacteria, and is marked "bad." The one in the middle shows fewer bacteria, and is marked "better." The one on the right shows still fewer bacteria, and is marked "best."

Below is a fourth sample, showing a great many bacteria, and this is marked "bad."

There is also a typewritten list of "the names of the better dairies," in which Dr. Smith gives the names of fifteen dairies with the average bacterial count of each one's milk, as shown by the analysis of samples taken by the city inspector.

The whole exhibit is enclosed in a glass show case and is attracting much attention.

PRaise JOURNAL FOR ITS ARTICLE ON NEW CHURCH

Robert C. Humphrey Writes Letter of Appreciation to Editor

Editor The Journal: My attention has just been called to the highly appreciated article on Atlanta's new Christian Science church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, which appeared in the issue of The Journal of April 5.

In connection with this article, parts of a letter from Mary Baker Eddy to the Atlanta church, written in 1899, are published. By the omission of a word in the sentence of Mrs. Eddy's letter its meaning is marred to a considerable extent. As published in your column, Mrs. Eddy is quoted as saying, "Our worship is a duty." As it appears in Mrs. Eddy's letter, a copy of which is before me, the sentence is "You worship no distant deity," which is quite another matter.

As our critics are usually on the alert to make capital of even a typographical error, would thank you for giving notice to this correction.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT C. HUMPHREY,

Committee on Publication, State of Georgia.

Savannah, Ga., April 14, 1914.

BANKS HERE ATTRACT FINANCIAL PUBLICATION

Atlanta's bank clearings have become notable enough in their growth to attract the attention of the Wall Street Journal. That publication, which circulates almost entirely among financial and industrial leaders of the country, carries in its issue of Monday, May 12, a statement of the Atlanta bank clearings for the preceding month, showing a gain of 18.7 per cent—the largest weekly increase of the year.

"Local banks report very much larger deposits than ever before held at this season," continues the Wall Street Journal. "One single bank, the Atlanta National, reports an increase in its monthly deposits of over $450,000 since the last call of the controller, March 12."

UNCLE SAM'S ARMY IS NEAR MAXIMUM STRENGTH

Uncle Sam's soldier regular army will be in line shape for fighting. So many recruits have joined the service in the last six months that the maximum of the standard army is almost reached.

Within the past six months about a hundred men a month have been joining at the recruiting station in Atlanta, and Lieutenant A. J. Gallagher, who is in charge here, says this is nearly five times more than the station was receiving a short while ago.

All over the country the recruiting work has grown largely, and in consequence the army is very nearly at its maximum size.

NEW YORK, April 16.—All attempts to create a rally in prices on far more than the failure, and it looks very much as if the general list would decline to a lower level before we have any rally of consequence. The present assistance which the market has received seems to have little confidence in the present situation, and it is useless to expect any sustained advance until there is a marked change in sentiment. —Potter.

YOUR MONEY
Do You Prosper When the Railroad Prosper?
By JOHN M. OGBORN

Says a banker who is also a writer:
"Let this bitterness against the railroads cease. There is nothing in all this

As a matter of fact, do you prosper when the railroads are on Easy Street? This banker-author correctly pictures the roads of sellers of but one thing—service—and the buyers of many things. They buy labor in greater quantity, perhaps, than any other business; thus their purchases of equipment make up the greatest bulk of the orders received by say that they need a vast quantity of new equipment, they need to build feeders and branches, new lines and terminals; they need to readjust their financing burdens so that they will not be handicapped indefinitely by high interest charges.

With the Government mandating and dictating rates—the price of the only thing they have to sell—money owners don't care to advance loans on railroad property except at exorbitant rates. Under the circumstances, the new equipment is not bought, the new feeders are not built, the new terminals are not built, the operating forces of the railway are reduced to the smallest possible number. Idleness of many folk, or reduced earnings—do they affect you personally? Figure it out for yourself.

If I were an investor and believed that the roads were being unjustly treated by the government there are two things I should do:

First—I should pick out the bonds of some of those roads whose financial position is the soundest and put into them all the spare cash I have.

Second—I should pay the operators of the roads in which I had invested to give me in as great detail as possible the facts concerning earnings in the last few years; I'd digest the facts, and then get into touch with my congressman and let him have the facts.

It is dead certain that congress, by the creature the interstate commerce commission is, will go on and bagging railroads long after they find out the facts. So, if you can show that your prosperity is suffering because the railroads are not getting a square deal you can do a great deal to better yourself. Cursing the roads won't help.

Women Everywhere

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Women from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small but that some woman has written words of thanks for health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No woman who is suffering from the ills peculiar to her sex should rest until she has given this famous remedy a trial. It is not reasonable to believe that what it did for these women it will do for any sick woman?

Wonderful Case of Mrs. Stephenson, on the Pacific Coast.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.—"I was sick with what four doctors called Nervous Prostration, was treated by them for several years, would be better for a while then back in the old way again. I had palpitation of the heart very bad, fainting spells, and was so nervous that a spoon dropping to the floor would nearly kill me, could not lift the lightest weight without making me sick; in fact was about as sick and miserable as a person could be. I saw your medicine advertised and thought I would try it, and am so thankful I did for they helped me at once. I took about a dozen bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and also used the Sassafras Wash. Since then I have used them whenever I felt sick. Your remedies are the only doctor I employ. You are at liberty to publish this letter."—Mrs. W. Stephenson, Independence, Oregon.

A Grateful Atlantic Coast Woman.

HONOLULU, ME.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

OUR ASTROLOGER

HOROSCOPE.

FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1914.

Astrologers declare that this is a day, doubtful and uncertain in the general feeling, for Mercury alone is in benefic aspect, while Mars, Neptune, Saturn and the Sun exercise adverse influence.

As the nerves are held to be peculiarly susceptible under this government self control should be summoned in all acts, even those that appear insignificant, for exaggerations, misandrous feelings and dissension are common with this configuration prevalent.

There is a fortunate sign for school teachers, mathematicians, secretaries, clerks and postmen.

During this week and next teachers will profit greatly and money-lenders have many clients, the seers declare. Advertisers and promoters are also favorably controlled when Mercury is friendly. Agents and all who seek opportunities for others should enjoy success.

The planets are promising for jugglers, trainers of birds and low comedians. There is a good omen for circuses and cheap theaters.

Mars, rising in Cancer, foreshadows troubles in Wales as well as in Ireland. This planet also threatens unrest, sickness and increased death rate in South Africa.

Fluctuations in railway stock again are indicated. A reaction in public sentiment may encourage a rise in values.

Planetary conditions are not reassuring so far as the public health is concerned. Scandals arising from the sad sanitary condition of American cities are indicated. New York will suffer from the effects of filthy streets.

Affrogation on the part of persons in authority may be expected when Saturn is evilly aspected. It is a time for employees to be cautious and industrious.

Persons born on this day should be careful to avoid quarrels and dissensions. Business anxieties and domestic troubles are foreshadowed. The omens are especially bad for these corn in the morning.

Children born on this day may be quick-tempered, but exceedingly bright. They may meet with financial ups and downs. As they are in the cup they may partake of the qualities of both Aries and Taurus. The ages of sixteen, thirty and forty-four may be especially eventful.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Roddy Fox was miserable. Yes, sir, Roddy Fox was miserable. To be continually laughed at is enough to make any one miserable. No one ever likes to be laughed at unless they are trying to make people laugh at them. Roddy Fox wasn't doing anything of that kind. Oh my, no! No, indeed! Roddy considers himself a very thin gentleman and so, of course, he wouldn't think of doing anything to make people laugh at him. But they did laugh at him just the same, even the very smallest, and it was all because of the way he had run from Buster Boor with Jumper the Hare right at his heels. You see everybody pretended to believe that it was from Jumper that he was running away.

So Roddy was very miserable. If he went down on the Green Meadows Dan would Meadow Mouse would be sure to call out:

"Mr. Frisky has a scare
 At the shadow of a hare!"

Then Danny would laugh in the most provoking manner, and hide where Roddy could not get at him.

If he went up to the Old Orchard he was sure to hear from Johnny Chuck:

"When Jumper sets him on the go Roddy's anything but slow!"

Then Johnny would dive into his house and all Roddy could do would be to grit his teeth.

If he went down to the Smiling Pool he would no sooner come in sight of Jerry Muskrat than Jerry would shout:

"Roddy, Roddy, you watch out!
 Jumper's somewhere hereabout!"

Then Jerry would laugh in the most provoking way and Roddy couldn't do a thing, because Jerry would be swimming with only his head out of the water.

If he went to the Green Forest he would be sure to hear Uncle Possum's funny chuckle from some tree overhead and then Uncle Billy would say:

"Ah done hear say it for a fact,
 Who runs away will sho' come back."

Then all Roddy could do would be to grind his teeth and tell Uncle Billy what dreadful things he would do to him if ever he caught him.

Now, of course, that the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, and the Smiling Pool, was to tease Roddy Fox. When he grew angry they laughed, and the anger he grew the harder they laughed. Of course that wasn't at all nice of them, but they didn't stop to think of that. Not one of them loved Roddy Fox and now that they had a chance to get even with him for all the frights he had given them, and for all the mean things he had done to them, they were just bound to make the most of it. So he didn't enter their heads that it might be making trouble for some one else. All they thought of was making Roddy Fox feel miserable.

But it is not very often that you or anybody else can make trouble for just one person. Did you ever think of that? It's so. You go and jump the hare. All Jumper's friends were laughing at Buster Boor and shouting mean things at him and calling him a coward because they were making Roddy feel uncomfortable and miserable. It didn't occur to their heads that they were making trouble for any one else. Yet they were. They were making a lot of trouble for some one else, and that some one was Jumper the Hare.

Next Story—How trouble was made for Jumper the Hare.

Benefit Bridge Party

All who are interested in this cause are cordially invited to attend.

Institute of Child Life

The sixth meeting of the Atlanta chapter of the Institute of Child Life was very well attended. Interesting addresses were made by the president, Mrs. Charles H. Brown, Miss Specie and Mrs. Gardiner. The chapter numbers over 200 members.

Club Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cronen entertained the members of their bridge club Wednesday evening.

The living room and dining room were artistically decorated with fragrant cut flowers, including ranunculus and roses. The price of the evening were individual articles of handcrafted china and were won by Mrs. L. W. Pierce and Mr. Cronen.

Miss Little May Scarratt assisted in entertaining.

Besides the club members the invited guests were Miss Scarratt, Miss Lorenz Wells and Miss Margaret Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Lopez

Entertain at Dinner

An event of Wednesday evening was the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lopez entertained at their home on Piedmont avenue, in honor of the wedding attendants of Miss Irene Lopez and Mr. Howard Osgood, of Minneapolis.

The large round table had as center decoration a Marie Antoinette basket holding Killarney rosebuds and the banquet table with blue ribbon, the blue cards were hand-painted bluebirds and at each guest's place was a small slipper containing rice. All the details carried out the bluebird idea.

The hostess was gowned in black chamois with bodice of shadow lace. Miss Lopez was attractive in a gown of flame-colored chiffon.

After the dinner the wedding rehearsal took place.

The guests of the occasion included the wedding party and a few out-of-town guests, and were Miss Lopez and Mr. McMillan, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Moses De Leon, Mrs. Howard Merrill, of Salt Lake City, Mr. Henry Harby, of Sumter, S. C., Mrs. Robert Campbell, of Minneapolis, Miss Madeline Horne, Dr. C. C. Calhoun, of Greenville, Mr. William Lechman, of Minneapolis, Mr. John Lopez and Mr. H. Alexander.

Bridge Club Entertained

Mr. Lester Carroll entertained the members of his Wednesday Bridge club Wednesday morning, at her home on Ogletree avenue, at a party of 100.

The decorations of the home were apple blossoms and sprays of dogwood. Top score was made by Mrs. J. H. Salmon.

Those present were Mrs. J. H. Hopkins, Mrs. R. H. Caldwell, Mrs. Knox Fries, Mr. T. Moore, Mrs. Dattor, Mrs. Jack H. Salmon, Mrs. S. S. Bellevue and Mrs. Collins.

HE NEW "CORSETLESS" FIGURE can never be yours without a corset—without the right corset.

That may sound paradoxical. But it is true. Because not one woman in a thousand has a figure which unsupported displays grace or smartness.

The C/Ba La Spirite Corset—always pre-eminent in smartness—meets this new demand of Fashion with the skill of 40 years of expert corset making. There is no type of figure it will not train into the new, smart, "uncorseted" lines.

Over 240 different C/B models, $1 to $10. See what a transformation your own C/B model will show you—your model designated for your own figure.

Additional Organizations

Support Grady

The Atlanta College Park Women's club will hold their annual business meeting and their endorsement, Wednesday, to the movement for a Greater Grady hospital, and pledged their active support in the campaign to secure the issuance of bonds.

The women are entering heartily into the plans of the Citizens' committee, and are familiarizing themselves thoroughly with the various reasons why the bonds should be passed.

The needs of Grady hospital were presented to the Atlanta College Park Women's club on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Educational Endowment association, and the body of women enthusiastically endorsed the resolution pledging their support.

Mrs. Amelia Woodall, president of the association, stressed the importance of building for the future and urged all the women present to work actively in behalf of the bond issue, which will enable Atlanta to equip itself with a fine municipal hospital.

Mrs. Frank Neely appeared before the College Park Women's club to acquaint its members with the bond movement and to ask their co-operation. They readily agreed to do all in their power to help, saying that a hospital such as planned will benefit not only Atlanta but all the suburbs and neighboring cities.

Thursday afternoon the conference will discuss the hospital movement and will probably align themselves with other progressive organizations of women who are working for the bond issue.

Gladstone and Advertising

Gladstone once defined advertising as the marvelous power of constant reiteration.

That happy phrase offers an explanation of the wonderful power of the newspaper as a business-builder. The power of reiteration continued from day to day is possessed by the newspaper alone among advertising media.

The Journal enters the home as a friend every day.

It is read by every member of the family. Through the use of The Journal it is possible for a business to have its name and its appeal effectually before the people all the time.

They grow to know it.

Whenever they have a want to be supplied they turn to the needed article which they have known through Journal advertising as naturally as they would turn to an old friend.

Georgia Won First Game From Vanderbilt Team in Athens

LITTLE PAL--HE DOES A FAVOR FOR MR. BOBIN

Georgia Trims Vandy in First

Red and Black Win by Score of 8 to 3--Four Fast Double Plays by Georgia Feature

ATHENS, Ga., April 16.—In one of those good old games full of close decisions, sensational plays, hits and errors, Georgia defeated Vanderbilt Wednesday by 8 to 3. The fun started in the first inning, when Vandy got two runs through a couple of errors and a close decision by the umpire. Finally the side was retired and then Georgia came to bat with fire in their eyes. They landed on Jones for three hits and three runs. This was too much for one man, so Latimer was sent to relieve him with a man on third and two down.

Holten hit one of the new pitcher and he was hit by his debut, then it was, scoring Owens, who was on third. He came back, though, on the next batter and struck him out. Vandy scored one more in the third, when Morrison hit safe, went to second on an error and on a long fly and scored on another error. This ended their scoring, but they kept on hitting. Georgia's other four runs came as a result of errors and timely hits.

The Georgia infield was certainly working hard and fast, making four fair-throwing double plays and made several pretty stunts. Holten got a complete game, but he was not so good as Morrison's hot ones with his bare paw and threw him out at first. Morrison then redeemed himself for his two errors by starting off the fast double plays and also by a couple of pretty stunts. McWhorter, Henderson, Clements and Davidson each got a two-lagger.

THE SHORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

THE ANNUAL HIP-HIP. Don't ask me what this cheering is. The cheering that is cheering is. The vociferous patter and the clatter of the day. Don't ask me what the shout's about. The habbittinted rout's about. Nor all the hectic frenzy at the zenith of its play. Don't ask me, pal, I haven't time. To even tell you in this rhyme-- To break the news though gently, From my busy working shift, I'd like to put you next to it, To furnish you the text to it, But something's down to happen And I'm headed there myself.

Don't ask me what this howling is. This smear of growling, scowling is. The volcanic, cataclysmic tumult in the air; For what the belly frengy The thorax-strained cadency is. Nor why a nation suddenly is tearing out its hair; Don't ask me, pal, I'm busy now-- The ozone has reeked my clammy brow And since today is press day, So I cannot pit the sign; I'd like to, in the grip of it, But something's framed to happen And I think it's in my line.

"They're off," the captain shouted as he staggered down the stairs.

"I've got a friend," writes in an ironic reader, "that you mention Valt Johnson's name in your stuff every day this season." Well, if we've got to pick on some guy we might do worse.

ANOTHER CHANCE WELCOME. After hitting Frank Chance into the American league they lost no great time and have wasted none since in showing him a certain brand of hospitality. They let him start in 1913 against Johnson (there we go again) and in 1914 against the Athletics.

The idea evidently was to see that the way was paved on each occasion for an easy start into his people got warmed up.

THE SCHEDULE VS. CHANCE. The A. L. schedule has played no inconsiderable part in arranging Chance's new destiny.

Each season, with a young, untired lineup, he has been forced to spend the first important month of his career with Philadelphia, Washington and Boston--the three hardest clubs in the circuit to beat. Last season against these three clubs the Yanks won 17 games and lost 47--the official percentage being .265.

Against the other four clubs--Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis they won 40 games and lost 47--percentage .460. Which is quite a difference. The first month is an important one to a young club as it either destroys or inspires confidence, which is a big part of any club's life. So, from the above statistics, the odds Chance is facing can be easily seen.

A FEW HIGH SPOTS. For the fanatic who sits in the lookout there are a certain number of high spots to lamp in the early stages of the conflict which will have an important bearing upon the two races. For example:

What effect 40 years and 18 campaigns will have upon Hans Wagner. What effect 33 years and 18 campaigns will have upon Napoleon Lajoie.

What form Joe Wood will assume after a long layoff last season and a complete recovery. What assistance Ed Walsh will be able to furnish Russell, Cleotis and Scott.

How machine morale Hank O'Day will be able to instill into the Cubs. How Griff's new pitchers will be able to help out Johnson and Boehl.

What Koney, Mowrey and Harmon will more than supplant Robinson, Wilson, Butler and Miller.

How well Robinson will be able to plug that gap at third with both Shafer and Herzog missing.

TRADITION AND RUCH. The National league is starting its thirty-fifth year. The American league its fifteenth--the Federal league its first.

So we have all brands of longevity and tradition. In the American league Philadelphia has won the flag five times, Chicago five times, St. Louis and New York have yet to put a winner over.

In the National league Chicago has won ten pennants, Boston eight, New York seven, Philadelphia four, Brooklyn three, Baltimore three, Providence two and Detroit one.

Cincinnati, Philadelphia and St. Louis have yet to win a National league flag.

In both circuits Chicago leads with thirteen pennants, Boston is second with eleven, New York and Philadelphia are tied for third with ten. In the American league Chicago leads with seven, St. Louis and New York are tied for second with six, Philadelphia and Boston are tied for third with five.

This was about the situation as the season runs Tuesday afternoon. To tell you exactly what it will be six months from now would destroy all the fun and thrills of the thing. Hence our reticence at communicating further intelligence.

"Dixie" Walker May Be Jumper

Pelican Pitcher Left Team in Montgomery, and Players Say He Will Join Federals

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 16.—"Dixie" Walker, the New Orleans pitcher who defeated Montgomery in the opening game of the Southern league season Tuesday, jumped the club Wednesday night, it is reported, and is in Nashville enroute, it is stated by team mates, to join Mansuet Tucker and his Chicago Federals. According to local players, Walker stated he has been in correspondence with Tucker some time and had been made a good offer. Walker is reported as asking Manager Dobbs for money Tuesday night under a plea of sending his wife home. Since he obtained the money he has not been seen here. A message from Nashville tonight states Walker is in that city. Manager Dobbs, the New Orleans pitcher, at midnight said Walker had been given permission to go to Nashville because of illness of his mother. Walker had purchased him a round-trip ticket. New Orleans players contend Walker has jumped.

Bisland May Join Crackers In Near Future

Browns Are Not Using Him Regularly, and Local Association in Correspondence With Him—Would Be Welcomed by Fans

BY INNIS BROWN.

If current reports are true, it is probable that Cracker stock is going to receive a nice healthy boost within the next few days. The gist of the aforesaid reports is that E. Livingston Bisland may begin drawing rations from the clubhouse within a short time. Unquestionably this is not handed out as positive information. But listen to these. Bisland is still with the St. Louis Braves, but he has not played in the regular games thus far. In fact, he was in Detroit for the opening game in the Michigan city. At present, Bobby Wallace, the Federal Scot, is playing ball just as though Jimmy Brown, the Browns' scout had just dug him up from about Tombstone, Ariz., and he only his worldly welfare, but even his life depended on it. St. Louis writes that Bisland is putting up the best game of his career for the past year, which is about twice for short snoring. If you happen to know Rhod-

In the face of such competition, Bisland or any other youngster would have the toughest run of sledding imaginable to settle down on the short field job regular. Now when Brown was on his way to report to the Browns' training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., he stopped here in Atlanta between trains, and Manager Billy Smith had a little confidential chat, that is as far as that, with two earnest parties and held under the train shed at the Union station. Manager Smith vouches for information to Bisland that any time he could manage to slip away from St. Louis, a ticket to Atlanta would be waiting for him, and a committee of prominent citizens would be down to meet him at the train on his arrival. If he were that sort of thing.

Now Brown has passed a communication to the club seeking a little information on the club's want list. In at least two class AA leagues, and it is all settled that he could even be moved out of the two big circuits. If he can be abducted from the major trust, the local club to spirit him out of the reach of the rest. Also decided on them to have E. Livingston back here if such a thing is possible.

What manipulations will follow the abduction of Bisland in case he comes back cannot be told. But there is also on the Cracker club for E. Livingston all right, or on any other minor league organization, so far as that goes. And with Bisland back on the team with the competent help he now has on—Well, just order us another round Mr. Kavanagh.

Hamilton Joins Browns Again

PARSONS, Kas., April 16.—Earl Hamilton, pitcher who jumped from the St. Louis American league baseball club to the Kansas City Federals Thursday, Wednesday agreed to rejoin the St. Louis Browns.

Hamilton reached this decision after an all-day conference with President Hedges of the St. Louis club, at Hamilton's home in Carnegie, Kas. Hamilton and Hedges left for St. Louis last night. While neither would discuss the day's developments, Hamilton told friends he was getting a "big increase" in salary and considered it to his interest again to join the St. Louis team.

Team Will Play 2 Games Today

Owing to the postponement of the game Tuesday, the Crackers and Vols will put on the first double bill of the season this afternoon. The first game will be called at 2 o'clock, and the second will follow after a short intermission. In all probability Manager Smith will use Frank Browning and Gil Price on the mound, while Manager Schwartz will doubtless use Herge and Holand.

The Cracker will try mightily hard to make a clean-up on both of these games, in order that the Vols may not have a chance to get an even break on

WINNING THE FIRST

By Innis Brown

A good beginning match a bad ending—maybe. Anyhow, a game won in April counts just as much as one pulled through in August or September. There was a bloke who harbors a faint suspicion that it is unlucky to win the opening pot, but few there be who leave it up for the next deal after the showdown.

The above is cited merely as a bit of assurance for any of those who may feel that it was a bad omen for E. Smith & Co. to manhandle the visiting Volunteers in the opening game Wednesday. Ill omen or no, it's a sign of better things to come when any old ball club can walk in and slam the opposing hurler for fifteen hits totally twenty-one bases. That's what the Crackers did in rolling up their six runs, while the Schwarziemen were compiling a quarter.

Every mother's son of the local athletes connected with at least one rate ray in the exception of Joe Dunn. Joe smacked 'em hard, but a Vol happened to be hanging around in the path of every shot, driving each popping three apiece. Thomas Long, Red Lynch and Ed Dent connected twice safely, while the other boys annexed one around. Lynch had a double and Long a triple. Hack Ribel got just one safe one, but he got it. What a smart. Hack was robbed of a sure-enough homer by a foolish ground rule. According to arrangements made before the game, a hit into the crowd was cut to two bases. But Hack boasted one high over the sign boards in right. It would have been a home run on any diamond in the country, and he should have been given the benefit of the doubt.

The Vols got only one more than half as many hits as the home talent, but they turned them along better for producing runs. Five of their eight were slammed out in the sixth, and were made to count for four runs. Two in the first scored another run, and the remaining hit was made in the second. In the other six rounds the visitors could do nothing with Dent's offerings. It was a singular fact that only three men batted in seven of the nine innings, and not a single hit was left on an attempted steal. Again in the sixth he singled and scored, allaham, and again Dunn killed him off trying to purloin second.

As an indication of the kind of ball the two hurlers were producing, it may be stated that neither walked a man, nor did a single batter get on base, being hit by a pitched ball. On the other hand, both struck out just two men each. Dent whiffed Sloan and Hemingway, getting the latter for the last out in the ninth after he had made two safeties earlier in the contest. More fooled Ribel in the first with three men on, and outgassed Dent in the fourth.

Dent began things by serving Bert King one straight over one the first ball. Luderham called this one. King took away at the second, and he then hit high foul almost against the left field stands, while Red Lynch caught after rounding into the gutter. It was a daring piece of work and brought the back-top a heavy hand from the stands.

Mayor Woodward threw the first ball, but Uncle Jim's contrived was long. The result ended in a wild pitch and had Dent cut loose a similar one during the battle it might have proved costly. Possibly the fact that the mayor had still Seattle's cap pulled rakishly down over his right ear had something to do with his lack of control. He and Joe Dunn walked out and settled on signals, and it is possible that Joe called for a spitball, and Uncle Jim lost control of the most delivery.
